Fitting a C^m Smooth Function to Data

Charles Fefferman
Princeton University

Abstract. The talk describes an efficient algorithm to compute a C^m function whose graph passes through (or close to) N given points in R^n. The task is delicate in case the points lie near a low-degree algebraic hypersurface. This is based on joint work with Bo'az Klartag.

1